SHIP BILL JAMMED THROUGH CONGRESS

Senate Democrats Vote for and Republicans Against the Measure

APPROPRIATION OF $50,000,000 IS MADE

Senator Underwood of Alabama Predicts the Failure of the Government Plan and Reviews Platform Pledges Broken by Administration.

After a fight extending over two years the administration has succeeded in jamming through congress its $50,000,000 government ownership shipping bill. The much discussed and much amended measure passed the senate yesterday afternoon by a vote of 38 to 21. Every Democrat voting was recorded in favor of the bill. Every Republican who voted was in opposition. Senator Johnson, Maine, Democrat, who is in a desperate struggle to hold his seat, asked that an announcement be made that he was paired in opposition. Manifestly government ownership and operation of merchant vessels is not an attractive platform on which to invite votes in Maine this year. Not only does the passage of this measure mark the biggest and most radical venture in government ownership ever undertaken by the United States but it also brings into being a new commission which will have broad powers over the shipping interests of this country, such as are now exercised by the interstate commerce commission over railroads. The passage of the bill drew from Senator Underwood, Alabama, a notable speech in which he, one of the leading Democrats of congress, reviewed the platform pledges broken by the Wilson administration and chided the President and his followers for failure to put into effect the 5 per cent discriminating duty on goods imported into the United States in American bottoms.

This duty was provided in the Underwood tariff law, but the administration refrained from enforcing it because decreasing revenues made it necessary to grasp every dollar to avoid a bond issue. The lower court already has held that these duties should have been the funded and as the case now stands the governments is obligated to pay back about $30,000,000 in duties. The refund has been held up through an appeal to the supreme court.

Mr. Underwood charged that if this original discriminating duty had been paid to American vessels the present plan for government acquisition and ownership of merchant shipping would have been unnecessary. Mr. Underwood sharply criticized the administration for having dealt American shipping a blow through the repeal of the Panama free tolls provision in violation of the Democratic platform.

The Alabama senator predicted that no ships would be acquired by the government under the bill passed, because it would be impossible to buy them, and that the government would have to build its own vessels, probably in its own navy yards.

He further predicted that at the close of the war, when normal conditions are restored, this government, unless its ships are admitted to the coastwise trade, will find that its vessels cannot compete with foreign shipping and that it will have to resort to subsidies or discriminating duties to keep the American flag on the high seas.

Final action on the bill in the senate came after adoption of several important amendments and the rejection of Senator Borah's proposal to attach the immigration bill to the measure as a rider. The house is expected to confer in the amendments, one of which would give the President the power to regulate in case of foreign discrimination against American shipping. With the ship bill disposed of the senate today began debate on the workmen's compensation bill, with prospects of its passage before adjournment today.

BEETLES IN WAKE OF GRASSHOPPERS

Attack Potatoes, Clover and Garden Crops—Investigation Identifies Them as Blister Beetles.

During the last few weeks several farmers in Athens, Townsend and Newfane have reported that a new kind of potato bug was attacking their crop. Further investigation has shown them to be black beetles, ranging from three-eighths to one-half an inch long. Several are usually found working together and when they attack a plant they trim it up in a very short time. This insect is the cantharid beetle, which is commonly known as the "blister beetle." They are nearly always found in areas where grasshoppers have been abundant for several years. In the larva or grub stage they feed on the eggs of the grasshopper and in this way are beneficial. In the beetle stage they attack potatoes, clover, and garden crops, making short work of them in patches here and there. They may be controlled by spraying with arsenate of lead or Paris green, just as one would for the Colorado beetle, the common "potato bug." It is impossible to say whether this insect will remain. As long as there are grasshoppers in large numbers there probably will be some damage from blister beetles, but the hoppers can be controlled or if for some reason or other they disappear, the blister beetles probably will go too.

SET FIVE FIRES AT ONCE.

Incendiaries Cause Big Loss in Amsterdam, N. Y.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., August 19.—Five fires of incendiary origin started almost simultaneously yesterday morning, occasioning a loss of $200,000 in the south side business section of the city, destroying three lumber yards as well as eight cement plants and coal sheds. A broom factory was also burned. This section of the city has been the scene of many fires during the past two years and that those of yesterday morning were deliberately started was established by the police in the finding of an oil-soaked burlap bag tucked underneath a coal shed adjoining one of the lumber yards. The entire fighting apparatus of the city, with scores of men impressed into service battled for hours with the several sections of the

2 Good Reasons

Why I Sell Ginseng Plant Out Wholly

First—I do not need longer to be tied at home for the cure, although little the labor and rich the harvest. Enough is enough—cannot take money with you, if you would.
Second—The building lots are to be sold to carry out settling estate and houses built thereon because of its superior location, beautiful view and "close in."
Ginseng roots of different ages and seed stratified and fresh, will be sold for cash at a price that will dispose of all in a short time. Here is a rare opportunity to start in this greatest of money-makers, as the writer has proven in 10 years, for one-third or less, usual cost for nursery stock.
